Dear Project Supporter:

The Utah State Fraternal Order of Police represents 2,000 active and retired Utah Police Officers. Many of these officers have participated in investigating and breaking down toxic methamphetamine labs over the past 15-20 years.

Police officers are trained to take action in dangerous situations, to bring order no matter how great the challenge might be. We believe it is only fair that the efforts to help our members should manifest this same spirit and intention.

The Utah Meth Cops Detoxification program is a shining example of the project's commitment to the well being of Utah's police officers. We deeply appreciate the fact that many members of our organization have received care at no cost – care that has enabled them to literally get their lives back.

This project has the full support of the FOP, and we are committed to helping the project secure sufficient funding to make its valuable services available to all who need them. Our members who are still affected by exposures received in the line of duty have the right to receive the care of their choice.

We are deeply grateful for the years that project executives and staff have devoted to this work, against great odds. We are also thankful for the generous support from the private sector that has made critical work possible.

We will not forget what you have done for our members. Together, let's work to help many, many more.

Fraternally,

Chad Soffe – President, Utah Fraternal Order of Police
